READING - LI ANG

Li Ang is a young Chinese artist who was given a small toy piano when she was only one and started playing the piano at the age of four.

Every time her parents sang together, she liked to play the piano to accompany them. At the age of four, she started formally learning to play. Her parents both like music and (1) _____.

In China, it is not easy for an ordinary family to support a child learning the piano. Apart from economic considerations, parents have to give the child a great deal of attention and even make great sacrifices. Before Li Ang was 10 years old, her parents had decided to send her to the USA. (2) _____.

At the beginning, Li Ang found many difficulties. Apart from the language and customs, the western way of teaching is very different from the Chinese one. But she had decided to learn and succeed. (3) _____.

Li Ang's mother gave up her own career to accompany her daughter abroad for more than 10 years. The learning experience was very difficult for Li Ang, but she was not intimidated. She had already understood that the difficulties were part of the process.

Li Ang studied with Y. Kaplinsky, a famous piano professor from The Juilliard School of Music in New York City. The professor confirmed her abilities and encouraged her to attend all kinds of performances and competitions. Li Ang feels her 10 years' studying abroad were very fruitful.

Now Li Ang frequently performs on the international stage. As a Chinese pianist, she is also trying to introduce Chinese music to the west. This year, she played two Chinese folk music pieces in recitals in the USA. For her, this is a bold attempt.

Li Ang keeps playing the piano for three hours every day. (4) _____, she has other hobbies, like watching movies and swimming. Although she is not as well known as other world-famous pianists, she has the faith to be a piano master in the future. After all, her musical career has just begun.
